WESLEYAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—A meeting in connection with this society was held yesterday evening in the appendage Wesleyan Church. The following gentlemen were present and addressed the meeting:—the Rev. Mr. Fiddlington, Rev. R. Caldwell, Rev. B. Chapman, Rev. J. G. Hays, Rev. C. W. Smith, Rev. Charles Crook. The choir sang hymns written by the Rev. Mr. Fiddlington who was introduced to the audience by the Rev. Mr. Fiddlington. After an address by the Rev. Mr. Parkes, which was received with much applause, the annual report of the Australasian Wesleyan Missionary Society for the year ending March, 1869, was read by the honorary secretary, Mr. T. P. Brown. The report showed that although there were several obstacles in past year were on the whole very satisfactory. In conclusion the secretary read a list of the contributors and contributions of the Chippendale circuit; amount of money collected by them for the missions being £191 5s. 9d., a larger amount than that announced new Zealand has been made the means of prejudicing England against all active measures to coerce and subdue the native inhabitants, and thus it is that at the present time by other circuit in the colony. The first resolution, as read by the Rev. B. Chapman, read as follows,—"That report, a portion of which has been read, be adopted. At this meeting offers its devout thanks to the 'Lord of harvest,' for the success with which He has crowned efforts of this and other churches."

and thus it is that at the present moment the natives consider that the missionary institutions as well as the Imperial Government are on their side, at least in their main object, and

; and while rejoicing in the number and character of converts of this society,—in the intelligence and devotion of its native agents,—in the multitude that are brought under the influence of its teaching,—in the moral institutions that are so successfully

It is thus that the case presents itself to the English people. Sir GEORGE GREY and others who sign this remonstrance deny it is justice. It is in vain that the colonists reiterate that the Government of New Zealand has been imperial—that it has been carried on by imperial agents; that there has been no power in the colony which resisted it—that the blunders, whatever they have been, have been made by the English Government.

their work,—as well as in the constantly carrying forward of the great and growing mission of the native Churches to contribute to the redemption of the world. The fact that the Church of the Holy Spirit is meeting finds therein a proof that the Gospel of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit is the Gospel of Jesus Christ is fully equal to the needs of humanity. The lowest and the highest, the most ignorant and the more vigorous diffusion, the most simple and the most ultimate and universal success." This resolution was seconded by the Rev. R. Caldwell, and carried unanimously. The Rev. R. Caldwell, who was moved by Rev. Mr. Slatyer,—"That, concerning the growth of the Church, we are to be sustained by the income of the parent society, and the immediate necessities of other and wider fields; the increased requirements of the missions committed to our care, and the increasing needs of the Church, we are to be sustained, and the obligations resting upon us graciously —and that the management of affairs was never conceded until they had become involved in inextricable confusion. These are facts which are so plain and clear in the colonies that it seems to be a perverseness that the matter is and for increased devotedness to this great enterprise, meeting pledges itself to employ all available means for the increase of the society's income, and, above all, to strive in relation to the society, and its work, a spirit of deeper personal sympathy and more fervent prayer, that, by yet greater power, it may fulfil its mission, and help forward the evangelisation of the world." On this resolution being seconded by the Rev. Charles C. ...

The first thing to be done is, if possible, to establish the real facts of the case, and to show the condition of peril in which the colonists are left. We do not believe that the country will be abandoned. We do not imagine that those whose fortunes are lodged in the soil will desert it; but of this we are most certain, that, voted by the Rev. W. K. Piddington, and seconded by Mr.

 Joseph Weerne, was as follows:—"That the thanks of the meeting be presented to the committee, the lady donators, and the contributors of the past year; and that the following gentlemen form the committee for the present year, viz.,—the ministers of the circuit, Messrs. Joseph Austin, J. Murphy, W. Austin, T. P. Reeve, P. P.

 Esch, E. James, jun., Reilly, W. Moore, and Ireland; and that Mr. T. P. Reeve; treasurer." Rev. W. K. Pidd-ington then read the following resolution, which was thrown entirely upon their own resources, and left to make war in their own way, the New Zealand conquest will be a dishonour to Great Britain; that the hand of vengeance will fall with tremendous force upon all who come into the power of the people, and that from the absolute necessities of the case they will have to anticipate the possibility of crime by extermination—a short shift, and a long one.

by Mr. Joseph Warren, a vote of thanks was passed to the meeting on behalf of Mr. Parkes. The proposition was received with acclamation. The meeting brought to a close with the doxology and benediction. The addresses were delivered a collection was made, which a large sum of money was collected.

THE PRESBYTERY OF SYDNEY.—This revered Court met in St. Stephen's Church, on the 3rd instant, the Rev. C. Smith, Moderator. The chief business was a call in favour of the Presbytery of New England, to the Rev. Thomas Acheson Gordon, of Balmain. The Rev. ones Niven, of Grafton, and Mr. C. Ross, Inverell,

There is something more precious to a great nation than gold ; a loss far greater than the loss of a battle. There are passages in the history of England that every patriot would make great sacrifices to efface.

John McMaster, of Ranger's Creek, also spoke in support of the call. The district of Inverell has at present a very poor man, but a church is built, and the people have provided adequate stipend. Mr. Alexander Brown and Mr. Murray, elders of the congregation at Balmain, testified to the warm attachment of the congregation to Mr. Gordon, and their regret at the prospect of his loss. They then been deputed to express this feeling to the Presbytery. The Rev. T. A. Gordon stated that, after full and serious consideration, he had resolved, chiefly on account of his health, to accept the call. There was the most cordial mutual attachment the mischief, however, is done, and cannot be recalled. The cruelty is perpetrated and cannot be remedied. It is not always, perhaps not commonly the case, that in national life those who commit wrong suffer for it, or that the penalty comes as a counterpart to the crime; but assuredly the desertion of people who have gone forth under the sanction of the Crown, and total indifference to what they suffer in the day of when him and his flock at Balmain, and it was painful to break the tie. Through many difficulties, he had seen the congregation advance to their present numbers and prosperity; but he left them in a thoroughly organized state, with a staff of elders, deacons, and Sabbath-school teachers, and with a large and substantial church. The Rev. Dr. Stool moved to the Presbytery again to the satisfaction of the Presbytery and the people, and to instruct Mr. Gordon in the duties of the office of the Presbytery of New England for his commandment. He stated that it would have been difficult to continue to the removal of Mr. Gordon from so good and promising a sphere as Balmain, had he not indicated his own mind so decidedly. But, as he had defeat, or what they do in the day of their vengeance, will stain the honour of the British name, and be a matter of record among that numerous class of politicians who amongst nations watch with no unfriendly views the progress of British affairs. If just Government is to exist in New Zealand and the natives are not to be destroyed, it is necessary that those who hold the reins should be strong, and that they should assume the authority

For this, there was cause for congratulation that there would get a minister distinguished for was of the utmost importance to man the outposts of the church with efficient and exemplary clergymen, and he felt that Mr. Gordon would be a blessing to the district.

Having lately travelled over that district, he (Dr. Steel) was anxious and thankful that Mr. Gordon had in his way to accept this call. It was with much regret that he parted with Mr. Gordon. Dr. Lang seconded the motion, and stated that it was highly creditable to the representatives of the congregation at Balmain that they spoken in such kind and respectful terms of Mr.

THE majority of people seem to be agreed that some restrictions shall be put upon the liberty of the individual so far as the consumption of fermented liquors is concerned. So far as such beverages are purchased, and consumed when they are purchased, it is found to be for the better regulation of society that those

He believed, however, that he would be able to visit at Inverell. The Rev. Adam Thomson, who, under a similar strain, and regretted the loss of Mr. Gordon. Other members of Presbytery having expressed their high sense of Mr. Gordon's worth, the translation was agreed to, and a pastoral tie between Mr. Gordon and the congregation at Balmain dissolved. The Rev. Adam Thomson was appointed to preach at Balmain, and to intimate to the congregation that he intended to declare the church vacant, and the Rev. C. Smith to be called to fill the vacancy. A petition was read from the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, praying for a moderation of a call to a minister, which was granted. It was intimated that congregation were prepared to give $300 a year and a case to a minister. The Rev. James Milne was appointed moderator in a call in St. Andrew's Church on the 16th inst., at half-past 7 p.m. The Presbytery adjourned till 17th inst. at half-past 10 o'clock in St. Stephen's church.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.—The Mutual Working Men's Amateur Dramatic Company appeared last evening in the hall of the Sydney School of Arts, and gave a musical and dramatic entertainment. The piece was rather limited in number, but frequently needed the gratification afforded by the efforts of the TRAIN ACCIDENT CAUSED BY WANTONNESS.—On Belmont says the Cambridge Times an accident happened to the bridge over the Merrimack river, near Lawrence, and attached to the bit of the shaft horse of the foreman was little pony, which had been placed in this position in front of its being alarmed by the vibration of the bridge. As the teams were passing the place where the new structure of the temporary approach with the main structure being made, which is now the narrowest part of the bridge, a horseman came dashing up, and although urged to stop until the teams had passed on, still pressed

It was found to be needful and salutary to set a check upon the drinking habits of the day at an early date. Few of those who pass by the house of entertainment, and see the chessboard sign stretching over the pathway, and know it to signify that the said house is recognised by the name of ward, came abreast of the pony, and pushed it by against the shaft horse to which it was attached. The pony hung back, broke the rope it was tied to, and got under the shafter and the wheel, the result of which was that the wheel went over one of the poor animal's legs, and crushed it in two places. It was found necessary to amputate the pony, and understand the horseman whose steed had caused the accident refused to pay any compensation for the damage he had occasioned.

In the days of the HENRIES a square, painted in red and white compartments, was to be found on the door-posts of all vintners' and publicans' establishments, for this sign represented the arms of the ancient family of FITZWAREN, the head of which was interested with the power of "licensing." It

Saturday disclosed that two at least of our respectable citizens have been victimized to a large amount. Mr. W. Caswell, coroner, and a jury of twelve, sat during the whole day on Saturday, and a man named John Tracy, of Bumbo, was committed to stand his trial at the next term Sessions, in Braidwood, for burning down a barn at Eurobodalla, the property of Mr. W. Man. We refrain from publishing the evidence as the prisoner will be charged before the Police-court this day, having set out to the Braidwood Police-house of Mr. Man, at Bumbo, on the 4th of January last. Every one at the meeting assembled at Mr. Coman's sympathized in his humane and humane shown attentions of mitigation against seems that licensing was not a subject for legislation until the days of WILLIAM IV. When, for the first time, a distinction was made between spirits and beer. HOGARTH, in his two pictures of "Beer-street" and "Gin-shop," had known this distinction previously, but it was recognised for the first time in 1830 by Parliament; the tax on beer being removed in order to encourage its consumption.

on, while a repressive tax was placed on spirits and wine, and the power of licensing the shops which supplied the latter was transferred from the Magistrates to the Excise as likely to be less open to abuse. But what was designed to be a check proved to be none, and what was meant to prove a wholesome countenance to John Barleycorn turned out to be a temptation to exceed, not to be withstood by the great body of the British people.

hood which can be obtained from the cocoons. While acting on the nerve as a muscle stimulant, it provides the body with some of the purest elements of nutrition and at the same time corrects and invigorates the function of the digestive organs. These beneficial effects are obtained in the greatest measure upon the system of the larva of the silkworm, but of late years much attention has been given to the growth and strengthening of cocoons, that there is no difficulty in securing it with every useful quality fully developed. The singular success with which this can be attained by his homeopathic preparation of cocoons has never been surpassed. The officers of the revenue being interested in creating as large a number of beer houses as possible, quickly multiplied them beyond reason; and free trade in beer was found to promote drunkenness. Although less inflaming than gin, it was ascertained that beer could be drunk to excess, and if so, that it produced effects as deplorable as of the great results to be obtained from little exertion. By our knowledge of the natural laws which govern the system of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected foods, Mr. Tappan has provided himself with a delicately flavoured beverage which serves as many heavy doctors' pills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of infirm males are floating around us ready to attack at a moment's notice if they are weak point.
